Installation of the Rear Sway Bar

1. Securely block the front wheels of the vehicle. Use a jack to lift up the rear of the vehicle and support with jack stands. You should not remove the rear wheels.
2. Unbolt the exhaust hanger by loosening and removing the two retaining bolts. Retain the hardware for later re-installation. Proceed to remove the back portion of the exhaust system by loosening the system from the rubber exhaust hangers. You will be re-installing this system later, so take care not to damage your exhaust when removing it

3. For ease of swaybar removal and installation, you will need to remove the alignment bolt that connects the arm to the frame. Make sure to mark the location of the alignment bolt with a marking utensil.

4. Use a ratchet and a socket to loosen and remove the rear end links from the sway bar. Retain the hardware for later re-installation.

5. Use a socket or wrench to loosen and remove the bolts holding the stock sway bar in place. The stock sway bar, bushings and brackets can all be removed now. The swaybar bracket is a two piece bracket. The stock inner piece will be used again.

6. Notice the bracket setup. This is how it will look in your car

7. Now your ready to install the bracket in your vehicle.

This bolt gets tighten first as seen in this picture.

Hand tighten the new HT brackets on but not all the way tight just yet.

Make sure this is level as your tightening.

8. You next step is to install the new Hotchkis Tuning sway bar. Maneuver the bar in over the exhaust. Then pull down the arm you disconnected and put it through there.

9. Now you can connect the end links. The outside hole is the light setting and the inside hole is the stiff setting.

10. Grab the HT bushings and grease the bushing with the provided grease. Place the bracket over the bushing. By using the spacer, attach the sway bar to the frame mounts.

11. Now reconnect and tighten everything including the alignment bolt and the exhaust. Installation is complete!
